

Rob Spelberg's Great Groove is a funk and soul band put together by Rob Spelberg. The music the band plays is best described as groovy, funky and soulful, with a hint of jazz. Steady beats and a hard grooving bass line, funky guitar licks, steaming horns and the sensual, sweet, dark and bright voices of Anja Obermaier and Evelyn Berkecz are the main ingredients of the music the band plays. Since the band believes that there are already enough cover bands on this planet, they play their own music, written by Rob Spelberg.

The band is influenced by Tower of Power, James Brown and the Funky People, Funkadelic, Jaco Pastorius, Seven Eleven, Soil and Pimp Sessions, Pointer Sisters and basically everything else that grooves hard.
